Fight Details

Date: April 4, 2026 (April 5 local time in Australia)

Venue: WIN Entertainment Centre, Wollongong, NSW, Australia

Title at Stake: WBO International Middleweight Title

Format: Scheduled for 10 rounds

Pre-Fight Storylines

Tszyu's Redemption Arc: After losing his WBO super welterweight title to Sebastian Fundora in 2024 and suffering a KO defeat to Bakhram Murtazaliev later that year, Tszyu is rebuilding his career at middleweight.

Nurja's Big Step Up: The Albanian fighter entered undefeated but with limited experience outside of regional bouts, making this his first major test on the international stage.

Broadcast & Undercard

Main Event: Tim Tszyu vs. Denis Nurja

Undercard Highlights:

Sam Goodman vs. Rodrigo Ruiz (IBF 126-Pound Title Eliminator)

Callum Peters vs. Delio Mouzinho (middleweight bout)

Legacy Implications

For Tszyu: A win would re-establish him as a contender at middleweight and potentially set up a U.S. return against bigger names.

For Nurja: Victory would catapult him into the global rankings, but defeat could expose the gap between regional success and world-class competition.

Risks & Trade-offs

Tszyu: Needs to prove durability after recent stoppage losses; moving up in weight adds pressure.

Nurja: Lack of elite opposition means he may struggle against Tszyu's experience and ring IQ.
